Humidifier Panels

Ultra Upgrade Humidifier Panel Replacements

Description

Most home humidifiers waste a lot of water because the water panels do not absorb or hold any water. Most of the water flowing over the metal panel goes right down the drain, costing homeowners money and wasting a precious resource. The ClenAir Ultra Upgrade water panels are constructed of a special water absorbing material that allows more water to be evaporated into the heating system and the home, and less water wasted down the drain. The result is a more efficient humidifier which will satisfy the humidity needs more quickly with less waste, increasing the comfort level in the home, especially where the existing humidifier is undersized.
